Psoriasis is such a chronic condition of the skin which needs special attention and care. The actual reason behind Psoriasis is yet to be known but it is said to be hereditary in nature. The underlined reason can be considered to be the increase of pitta dosha in the body. Ayurvedic Treatment for Psoriasis, rooted in Ayurvedic traditions, offers a holistic approach to optimal health. It emphasizes prevention and rejuvenation to enhance vitality. Preventive care involves identifying dosha imbalances and using herbal remedies, diet adjustments, yoga, meditation, and lifestyle changes to boost immunity and maintain harmony. Regenerative treatments revitalize the body, promoting detoxification through Panchakarma and using specialized herbs to nourish tissues. Ayurvedic massages like Abhyanga and Shirodhara enhance circulation, relax the mind, and stimulate healing. This approach fosters balance, addresses the root causes of potential health issues, and promotes self-care for lasting wellness and vitality. Ayurveda's time-tested wisdom guides the journey to holistic well-being.
